The project “Educational Organisation Using ServiceNow” addresses the growing need for automation and efficiency in managing educational institutions. Many organizations still depend on manual processes for maintaining student and faculty data, handling admissions, and monitoring performance, which leads to data duplication, inefficiency, and delays.

This project provides a ServiceNow-based Educational Management System designed to centralize all administrative and academic operations. The system simplifies workflows such as creating tables, form layouts, form designs, number maintenance, and process flows, ensuring all institutional activities are performed accurately and efficiently.

The solution helps improve data integrity, efficiency, and user satisfaction by reducing manual work, enabling real-time access to data, and fostering smooth coordination between departments.

By implementing this ServiceNow solution, educational institutions can transition into a smart, digital ecosystem that enhances productivity, strengthens data management, and supports effective decision-making across all levels of management.
